

Local Firemen Yield To Musicians' Union

To Prevent Threatened Disruption of Parade Next Week the Convention Committee in Stormy Session Vote to Reconsider Former Action and Award Convention Music to a Union Band.

"Fair" music won a victory over "unfair" music Tuesday evening when the general committee in charge of the firemen's convention, here next week, after a stormy session voted to reconsider the awarding of the band contract for the convention and awarded the job to Costello's Band of this city, a union organization. The contract previously had been awarded to the Excelsior Band, a non-union band.

It was to avoid the threatened disruption of the biggest parade in the history of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association that the firemen yielded to the local musicians' union which had taken the stand that unless the convention music was awarded to a union band, the ban on the J. O. U. A. M. Band and Ferraro's Band would not be lifted for the day of the parade. Now that the firemen have complied with the demand of the union it is expected that further friction will be avoided.

Line of March of Parade.

The line of march for the big parade will be held Thursday afternoon, June 21, at 2 o'clock, was adopted at the meeting. The parade forms at Broadway and Strand and proceeds up Broadway to Albany avenue, to Clinton avenue, to Main street, to Wall street, to North Front street, to Crown street, to Maiden Lane, disbanding at Academy Green.

Mayor Dempsey's Letter.

Mayor E. J. Dempsey sent in a communication to the convention committee calling attention to the fact that the city had appropriated the sum of $5,000 toward defraying the expenses of the convention to be held next week. This amount was included in the budget by the common council and approved by the mayor with the thought that it would benefit the city and its business.

"It has come to my attention," wrote Mayor Dempsey, "that differences have arisen in the local committee with reference to certain phases of the entertainment to be offered, which, if true, leads me to believe, which will reflect upon the city and will inevitably lead to criticism and may result in marred the celebration."

"The animosities which have arisen should not be permitted to detract from the glory of the occasion or the success of the convention. We must all of us remember that the welfare of the city is paramount and that our individual opinion and difference must be secondary to the good of the city as a whole."

"To be specific, I understand that there is a question of whether or not all of the various bands which have been employed to furnish music for the occasion are to be permitted to carry out their contracts which they have made and if some of them are permitted to carry out such contract whether the others will participate in the parade which is the largest feature of the event."

"As a representative of the people of Kingston I feel a responsibility for the expenditure of funds raised by taxation to defray a part of the expenses of the convention. I feel that in justice to the people of the city you should be furnished with a report from a responsible representative of each local organization as to whether or not it will parade so that we may be informed as to how many bands will be represented."

On behalf of the city I must earnestly urge you to reconcile any difference which may have arisen between any local organization to the end that the celebration will be a credit to the firemen and to the city as a whole."

President Weber Writes.

A letter from President Joseph Weber of the American Federation of Musicians to President Edward P. Ward of the local musicians' union had been handed to Chairman Edward Moran of the general committee and he turned it over to the Secretary Port to read.

President Weber's letter to Mr. Ward read: "In answer to your favor of June 7, I beg to advise you it is the policy of the American Federation of Music to ignore unfairness of a band if it works for the organization to which it belongs and of which the members of the band are members. The above information would exclude the Excelsior Band from the convention, but as far as Ferraro's and the J. O. U. A. M. bands are concerned unless they should be substituted by union bands, then I fear nothing further can be done in the matter, but the entire function in question will have to be held as usual."

Kolts Tells of Threats.

W. H. Kolts said that some of the members of the musicians' union had threatened to break up the parade

Trolley System May Be Replaced By Busses in City

Understood That Kingston Consolidated Railroad Is Planning to Ask Common Council for Permission to Operate Busses in Place of Trolley Cars.

According to stories that have been current for some time in Kingston the local trolley road is planning to ask permission of the common council to replace the present trolley system with bus service. It is understood that the Kingston Consolidated Railroad contemplates in the near future filing a petition to that effect with the common council.

If busses succeed trolley cars in Kingston, it is said they will afford much better service to the traveling public for the busses will be operated on an even shorter schedule than the present trolley cars.

Local officials of the trolley road when questioned about the stories current in this city stated that they did not care to make any statement at this time as to future plans, if any, of the trolley company.

If the trolley road does substitute bus service for trolley service, the present car barn will be remodeled somewhat to care for the busses, it is said.

SEVERAL CASES TODAY IN POLICE COURT

James Carrigan and Thomas Murphy, both strangers, were arrested on North Front street on Tuesday evening by Officer Hess who charged them with public intoxication. Murphy was fined $5 or five days in jail. He took the jail sentence. Carrigan appeared in bad shape physically when arraigned and quivered and shook. He was given five days in jail and will be examined by the jail physician.

Mrs. Malcolm Clare in police court withdrew the charge of non-support that she had preferred against her husband and he was discharged.

Frederick Hosier of Hasbrouck avenue was arrested Tuesday by Sergeant Stinson on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Hosier charging him with non-support.

Charles H. Beatty of Hicksville, arrested at the same time for driving past the signal, forfeited $10 cash bail by failure to appear.

DRY LAW CASES BEFORE COMMISSIONER CONNELLY

Michael Mara of Newton Hook, Columbia county, who was arrested several days ago by Federal men charged with violation of the Volstead act, was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner A. C. Connelly, Tuesday afternoon. He waived examination and gave a permanent bond to await the action of the federal grand jury in New York.

Owing to the absence of the complaining witness and federal men who were engaged in cases elsewhere, the hearing of the charge against George Heizen, arrested several days ago for possession of alleged beer of too high a voltage on Thomas street, was adjourned on Tuesday afternoon by request made to Commissioner Connelly, to a date to be fixed later.

PAUL TERPENING INJURED IN FALL AT POLICE STATION.

Tuesday evening while Paul Terpening of 84 St. James street was visiting at police headquarters on East O'Reilly street, the chair in which he was sitting tipped back suddenly and slid out from under him and he struck his head against the large radiator. Terpening was rendered unconscious for a few minutes by the fall and sustained a deep laceration in his head which took two stitches to close at the City of Kingston Hospital. Dr. Johnston sewed the wound shut and Terpening was able to return to his home.

Flying Laboratory.

New York, June 13 (AP).—For the first time in newsreel history, a flying laboratory was used when moving picture film and newspaper photographs of the opening of the Republican convention yesterday were developed and printed while being flown east from Kansas City. Stops were made by this Richmond-Parma-Associated Press flying laboratory to permit the distribution of prints along the line of flight.

Many Candidates For Vice President Meet Opposition At Public Hearing

Man Wanted From Middle West Who Will Appeal to Farm Element.

Kansas City, June 13 (AP).—Vice Presidential booms have popped up at the Republican convention like mushrooms after a rain since Herbert Hoover accumulated his apparently winning lead in the presidential race. Leaders were busy today looking over the crop.

In the center of the field and standing a little higher than the host of other candidates was that of Vice President Dawes, with Secretary Mellon and Senator Borah giving impetus to a boom already under way with public declarations for the incumbent.

So many were the candidates and so strong was the Dawes movement running, that leaders took quick cognizance of the situation and heads were together during the night in the "inner circle" for some preliminary study.

Everything hinges on Hoover. Every vice presidential condition today hinged on the Hoover candidacy. The field of contestants ranged from the eastern coast to the Rocky mountains. It was the consensus that the Hoover running mate should come from the middle west, where the agricultural problem is demanding attention of the party chieftains.

However, no word was forthcoming from Mr. Hoover or from the Hoover camp.

Leading Candidates.

Here is a list of the candidates either by their consent or by activity of friends: Senator Curtis, Kansas; Watson, Indiana; Moses, New Hampshire; Foss, Ohio; Nye, North Dakota; Edge, New Jersey; and Deneen, Illinois; Representatives Tilson, of Connecticut, and Fish of New York; Everett Sanders, secretary to President Coolidge; Hanford MacNider, of Iowa; Sam R. McElvaine, former governor of Nebraska; General John J. Pershing, Governor Fisher, of Pennsylvania; Governor Fuller, of Massachusetts; Henry J. Allen, former governor of Kansas; Governor Baker, of Missouri; Henry W. Anderson, of Virginia; William J. Donovan, of New York; assistant attorney general; Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.; John MacKenzie, former representative from Illinois; Louis Emerson, candidate for governor of Illinois, and Senator Fess, of Ohio.

But no list could be complete. During the night every hour seemed to bring forth a new candidate.

Want Man From Middle West.

Friends of Secretary Hoover were among those who were anxiously looking over the situation. There is no doubt but they want a man, if possible, from the middle west and a personality who will appeal to the farm element, which has voiced noisy protest against Mr. Hoover.

Likewise, a good administration man is desired by the Hooverites and the McNary-Haugen bill again enters the picture. A candidate aligned definitely one way or the other on this not regarded to their liking. Vice President Dawes has been regarded as favorable to the McNary-Haugen bill, or at least to its controversial equalization fee provision, but he has never been called upon to vote on it or make known his views.

Coolidges May Depart Tonight

Washington, June 13 (AP).—Following a second consultation this morning between Col. James P. Coupal and Lieut. Commander Joel T. Boone, White House physicians, the condition of Mrs. Coolidge was considered sufficiently improved to allow the departure tonight of President and Mrs. Coolidge for the summer White House in Wisconsin.

Improvement in Mrs. Coolidge's condition had continued during the morning to a point which, in the opinion of the physicians, removed any danger in undertaking the journey to Brule.

Since the arrangements which have been for departure on Monday night have not been disturbed, everything is in readiness for leaving Washington tonight.

The president yesterday spent a few hours at his desk, and, since it was Tuesday, called the few members of the cabinet who have remained in town to the White House for the regular cabinet meeting, just as though he had never planned a trip to Wisconsin.

Secretary Hoover and Attorney General Clegg responded, with Under Secretary Olds representing the state department in the absence of Secretary Kellogg.

At noon, Mr. Coolidge left the executive office and repaired to the White House proper, where a radio set was available for listening in on the opening of the Republican National Convention at Kansas City.

VAN KEUREN SPENDING TEN DAYS IN JAIL.

County Judge Joseph M. Fowler has reduced the sentence of ninety days in jail imposed some time ago by Judge Charles P. Jennings of the town of Ulster, on William W. Van Keuren, who was found guilty of assault, to ten days. Mr. Van Keuren appealed from the sentence to county court and the sentence was reduced to ten days. He is now serving the term.

New Zoning Law New York in Line for Hoover

Property Owners and Their Attorneys Express Themselves Freely at Committee Meeting Held for Purpose of Receiving Suggestions—Meaning of "Public Hearing" Discussed—Another Hearing on June 26.

A public hearing called by the common council zoning ordinance committee was held Tuesday evening at the common council chambers in the municipal building. Alderman Relyea, chairman of the committee, which has in charge the drawing of the new zoning law, presided. He stated the purpose of the meeting was to receive suggestions from any taxpayer who desired to be heard on the zoning matter and the committee would act on these suggestions and be guided by such suggestions in recommending to the common council a new zoning law. The meeting was not a formal one at which the proposed ordinance could be explained or its provisions interpreted from a legal standpoint but he explained it was held for the purpose of receiving suggestions for the guidance of the committee in drafting and recommending a law to the common council. If and when an ordinance proposed to the common council by the committee on zoning is adopted by that body, then a formal public hearing will be had on the matter on call of the mayor. The meeting was finally adjourned to June 26.

Immediately after this announcement Judge William D. Brinnier, Jr., asked if the committee which drafted the proposed ordinance was present and prepared to answer questions in regard to certain sections of the proposed ordinance. He asked if they were prepared to answer and explain what the intent was of the language used in certain portions of the new ordinance.

Mr. Relyea stated that the corporation counsel was not present and it would be impossible to give any legal interpretation of the proposed law. The maps were on exhibition, copies of the law could be had and the committee was ready to receive any suggestions for improvements to the ordinance which was on view.

Brinnier Wants Stenographic Record.

Mr. Brinnier replied that it would be impossible to make suggestions if the intent of the law was unknown. There were certain clauses and provisions in the law which he did not understand and he desired an interpretation of the section. He cited one section where "public utilities" are referred to and asked what the committee had in mind when they referred to "public utilities". Until the terms were interpreted it would be impossible to discuss or make any intelligent suggestions in regard to the matter. He asked that the meeting be adjourned two weeks and at that time a stenographer be present to take down the questions and the answers made. This would provide a record of what the interpretation of certain clauses were and would give a record upon which it would be possible to proceed in the future. If no record was kept of the meaning of certain things it would be possible for future administrations to football the ordinance around, each succeeding administration making its own interpretation of the meaning of certain portions of the law.

Frank W. Brooks, who appeared for taxpayers, joined with Mr. Brinnier in his suggestion that an official record be kept of the interpretation of the provisions of the ordinance in question.

Committee Seeking Guidance.

Alderman Relyea replied that the meeting was not a public meeting but one called by the committee to receive suggestions for improvement. It was not an official meeting but one called to assist in and guide the committee in making recommendations to the common council.

Mr. Brinnier stated that if the meeting was not a public one, then he was out of place, but he understood it was a meeting called to receive suggestions and answer questions in regard to the matter, but if the committee was unable to answer questions as to what was the intention of certain language, then it was impossible to offer suggestions for improvement as no one would know what they were talking about. He renewed his suggestion for a two weeks adjournment and the taking down at that time of the interpretation of the ordinance provisions by a stenographer as a public record for future guidance.

Alderman-at-large Everett, who is a member of the ordinance committee, stated the meeting was not an official public one insofar as the adoption of the ordinance was concerned. The common council would act on the ordinance as recommended by the committee and a formal public meeting would be called by the mayor. He said the committee, which is formulating an ordinance to be presented to the common council, had felt that certain things had come up upon which they desired suggestions from taxpayers and the informal meeting had been called by the committee to get helpful suggestions.

Presidential Preference Vote by New York Delegates Scheduled for Five O'Clock, But Meanwhile Delegates Climb Aboard Hoover Band Wagon.

City Russell Hall Way Associated Press Staff Writers.

Kansas City, June 13 (AP).—As the Republican National Convention began its second day's work today there was a scramble of New York delegates to board the Hoover band wagon.

Although more than two-thirds of these delegates had been opposing the nomination of the Secretary of Commerce up to yesterday forenoon, most of them were lined up for him today. This change of attitude followed close after the announcement that Pennsylvania and Massachusetts had decided to vote solidly for Hoover.

Predicts Eighty Votes for Hoover.

Former Congressman William H. Hill of Binghamton, upstate New York leader, predicted that at least eighty of the delegates' ninety votes would be for Hoover. Charles C. Lockwood of Brooklyn, an anti-Hoover delegate, estimated that all but about fifteen votes probably would go to the secretary on the first ballot.

Lockwood said he would cast his vote for Charles E. Hughes. He advocates nominating Representative Hamilton Fish for vice president.

State Chairman George K. Morris of Amsterdam declined to discuss the probable line-up of the delegation. He said he had announced that Coolidge was his first choice and that after Coolidge Hoover was the logical man and should be nominated, and that he had not changed from this position.

Award Word from Hill.

It was reported that many of the anti-Hoover delegates were awaiting some word from National Committeeman Charles D. Hilles before announcing their individual presidential preferences. Mr. Hilles was still confined to his room by illness and his statement was forthcoming from him. When the Pennsylvania delegates decided to support Hoover as a unit the news was withheld for a time from Mr. Hilles on the ground that he was a sick man and there was no need of making him sicker.

Caucus at Five O'Clock.

A meeting of the delegation has been called for five o'clock this afternoon at which time a vote on presidential preference will be taken.

The little group of about twenty-five delegates headed by Oregon L. Mills, Representative of Portland, O., and Snell and former Representative Hill, who had stuck to the Hoover colors from start to finish, made no effort to conceal their elation over the turn affairs had taken yesterday by making their choice the undoubted presidential nominee. "We feel so happy that we love everybody," Mr. Hill said.

The delegates and other members of the Westchester county contingent were entertained at dinner at the President Hotel by the women of the party last night. About twenty attended. A round robin letter signed by every guest was sent to William L. Ward, veteran Westchester party leader, expressing regret that illness had prevented his attendance at the convention and voicing the hope for a quick recovery.

Joyous Welcome For Carranza

Washington, June 13 (AP).—With its anxieties for the safety of Captain Emilio Carranza quieted and its preliminary reception out of the way, Washington turned today to a round of entertainments for the Mexican Good-Will aviator who returned his country's compliments for the visit of Colonel Lindbergh to Mexico City in December.

Sophisticated by its long contact with noted fliers, the capital nevertheless had a joyous welcome for the dapper 22 year old pilot from the sister republic to the south who fought his way through fog and storm and made a forced landing in North Carolina, 324 miles away, under perilous circumstances.

Noted aviators, including Lieutenant Lester Maitland, who flew to Hawaii, vied with each other last night in extolling the flying skill and cool judgment of the young flier in landing his plane at Mooreville, N. C. after a heavy fog had turned back even the seasoned air mail pilots who were well acquainted with the route.

President Coolidge and the chiefs of aviation in the army and navy and other government departments were alike warm in their praise of Carranza's feat.

The flier took his laurels modestly, and reminded interviewers that he was enjoying a fifteen day furlough and could make no plans beyond that time. He said he had no idea where he would go from here or when he would leave his plane, the "Mexico Excelsior," which he said was "the best in the world."

Meagher's Car Stolen.

Principal Frank L. Meagher of School No. 5 parked his Nash sedan on East O'Reilly street Tuesday evening and later in the evening the car was stolen. The theft was reported to the police and up to noon today the car had not been located.

Farmers Shout "We Don't Want Hoover"

Gather in Large Numbers Outside Convention Shouting Protests Against the Nomination of Herbert Hoover For President—Delegation Refused Permission to Enter Hall.

Farm Relief May Be Carried to Convention Floor

Kansas City, June 13 (AP).—Hurdling the prohibition enforcement plank problem, the Republican convention resolutions committee found itself blocked early today on the question of farm relief and after five hours adjourned at dawn to resume its discussions in the middle forenoon.

The sub-committee of fifteen agreed in the early morning on a law enforcement plank, substantially in the form as presented by Senator Borah, of Idaho. Under its provisions, the party would pledge itself and its nominees "to the observance and vigorous enforcement" of the Eighteenth amendment, which is identified by name.

The farm relief plank as proposed by the administration leaders provoked so much discussion that members of the committee were satisfied that an agreement was impossible until further conferences could be held, and it was for this reason that an adjournment was taken.

The failure of the sub-committee to conclude its labors in its overnight session made it certain that the platform on which the party candidates are to stand in the November elections would not be presented to the convention until tomorrow.

After the sub-committee has wound up its work, the entire resolutions committee must pass judgment upon its action.

Adoption by the sub-committee of the Borah plank regarding prohibition enforcement is certain to lead to a fight in the entire committee and from there it may find its way to the floor of the convention. Leaders in the New York, New Jersey and other delegations have declared against any declaration by the convention which would identify the prohibition amendment over other amendments in the constitution.

As the sub-committee adjourned, members would not even venture a guess as to the time that would be required to thresh out the farm relief problem. It was indicated very clearly that the division in the committee was wide, and it was regarded as possible that this subject might have to be referred to the entire committee for a decision.

There also were intimations that the controversy over the farm relief plank might not be settled until the subject had been taken to the floor of the convention.

UNEXPECTED TRIUMPH FOR GOVERNOR SMITH.

Raleigh, N. C., June 13 (AP).—While the forces of Representative Cordell Hull of Tennessee held a majority in the State Democratic Convention and succeeded in selecting eight delegates-at-large favorable to their candidate for the presidential nomination, failure to adopt the unit rule binding the entire North Carolina delegation to vote for Hull at Houston was regarded to Governor Smith of New York.

Zeb V. Furlinton, manager for Hull, had announced his intention prior to the convention of asking for a full instructed delegation. His failure to do so was a compromise, leaders said, in exchange for an agreement that Smith's forces would not press for a proportional delegation based on the strength of each candidate in the state convention. The compromise gave Smith assurance of four and one-half of the 25 votes from North Carolina at Houston, possibly more, with Hull claiming the remainder.

DESPERADOES CREDITED WITH A FOURTH MURDER.

Liberal, Kansas, June 13 (AP).—Discovery of the body of a man in an abandoned shack near here today left four desperadoes who recently robbed a bank at Lamar, Col., credited with a fourth murder.

The body was identified as that of E. A. Kessinger, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Lamar, Mo., who was shot by the robbers May 22, just when they fled with a large amount of loot, after killing A. N. Parrish, president of the bank, and his son, John Parrish, the cashier.

Shot to Death.

Buffalo, June 13 (AP).—Anthony Moskel, 27, was shot to death early today during an argument on the back porch of his home. His brother-in-law, Vincent Miller, is being sought by police.

Ask Permission to Enter.

After their attempt to enter the convention hall had failed, a committee representing the protesters was taken into the auditorium to ask the president of the convention to permit the farmers to come in. The committee was composed of Senator Nye of North Dakota; Luke Duffy, a state senator from Indiana, and Bush.

W. H. Sette, president of the Indiana State Farm Bureau Federation, also one of the leaders in the demonstration, declared that if the officers of the convention declined to permit the farmers to enter there would be no forcible attempt to storm the doors.

"No," Says Sergeant-at-Arms.

Bush returned shortly and informed the farmers that Leo Nixon, sergeant-at-arms for the convention, had ruled that the protesters could not enter.

Thereupon the farmers massed themselves at the west side of the auditorium and several of the leaders began to make speeches.

From the inside came the strains of "America" and other patriotic songs, with shouts from the protesters applauding their speeches or going into a chant "we don't want Hoover."

Convention Hall, Kansas City, June 13 (AP).—The second session, Republican National Convention, was called to order by Temporary Chairman Fess at 10:37 a. m. central standard time.

For the time being, the shaping of all of the party planks was in the hands of a sub-committee of fifteen, still groping for an agreement after long night hours of argument. Meanwhile, the convention itself, waiting for the recommendations of its committee, had to be content with a bill of fare made up, like yesterday's, of oratory and formalities. The only business immediately at hand was the installation of Senator George Moses, of New Hampshire, as permanent chairman of the convention and the handing in of reports of various lesser committees.

It was the hope of the leaders that the report of the platform committee would be brought in late today, opening the way for the nomination of the presidential candidate tomorrow.

While the platform sub-committee labored with its serious problems through the night and into today the credentials committee also was burning midnight oil over the cases of a group of contesting delegations whose right to sit in the convention had been appealed after an adverse decision by the national committee. This committee's report also was expected today.

Hoover and Who.

Among the great bulk of the delegates not kept busy with committee work there was a continuing buzz of discussion today over the question of a nominee for the vice-presidency. With the lead of the ticket regarded as already selected, second place seems to have been won on every side and the Hoover campaign slogan "Who but Hoover?" was given by the delegates themselves, a companion query in the form of "Hoover and Who?"

There was much talk of a recommendation for Vice-President Dawes, who had the endorsement of Secretary Mellon, Senator Borah and others, but the field of possible candidates multiplied so rapidly that not one professed to know what the final answer would be.

Norwegian Fliers Will Bring Help To Italia Crew

Sealer Hobby Is In Open Water and Fliers Are Ready to Take Off—Blizzard Sweeping Across Ice Pack Adds to Perils of Survivors.

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, June 13 (P).—Captain Riiser-Larsen and Lieutenant Luftnow Holm, Norwegian fliers, were ready to start today on a determined attempt to bring help to the stranded crew of the Italia, now in desperate straits on drifting pack.

The Sealer Hobby, after battering its way through open leads, was in open water today and the Norwegian fliers were planning to take off as soon as it was favorable in an effort to find the Italia's radio party, of which General Umberto Nobile is head, somewhere near Foulie Island off the coast of Northeast Land.

Blizzard Adds To Perils. A blizzard sweeping across the ice pack today added to the perils of the survivors of the dirigible Italia.

Their fuel and food were running low. Hands and feet were frost-bitten and medicine was needed to treat the frost bites and for two of their number who were injured when the Gondola of the airship crashed against the ice.

For eighteen days these men have been castaways. Three of the crew who tried to reach land were lost. If they were alive today it is doubtful if they would be able to make their way through the blinding snow. Also they would be in imminent danger of falling into the open water among the ice floes.

With the wind increasing, General Umberto Nobile's party was regarded as certain to experience trouble in keeping up wireless communications. The second group, which came down on the ice nearly 19 miles from General Nobile, was out of touch with their companions and probably ignorant of relief measures. In view of this it was thought that any hopes they held of reaching safety were fast dwindling.

The wind blowing from the west hampered the progress of the Sealer Hobby by piling up the ice floes along the north coast in the vessel's path. The vessel was struggling to get near enough to permit Captain Riiser-Larsen and Lieutenant Luftnow Holm to take off in seaplanes in search of the Italia's survivors.

These planes are not sufficiently equipped to rescue the marooned men. They can only give the castaways temporary aid to enable them to hold out until icebreakers and larger planes can make their way to them.

One of the most powerful ice breakers in the north, the Russian vessel Maligin, sailed from Archangel, Russia, with an airplane. It was estimated that she would reach north east land in about 14 days. An Italian expedition in the flying boat Savoia-55 was on its way north. A three motored plane capable of carrying ten passengers was expected to reach Spitzbergen tomorrow from Stockholm.

Maddalena at Stockholm. Stockholm, Sweden, June 13 (P).—Major Maddalena, flying the Savoia-55, arrived at Stockholm at 12:45 p. m. Enroute to Spitzbergen to aid in the relief of the crew of the Italia.

Defer Start Of Friendship

Trepassey, N. F., June 13 (P).—The start of the monoplane Friendship for Europe was deferred until early tomorrow after two more unsuccessful attempts had been made to lift the plane from Trepassey Harbor today. Miss Stultz, pilot, said the dozen failures of the plane to take the air in attempted takeoffs last Thursday, yesterday and today, had proved that the six ton load was too great.

He planned to unload all the gasoline this afternoon and make test flights immediately after. Stultz and his co-fliers, Lou Gordon and Miss Amelia Earhart, plainly showed their disappointment.

SOUTHERN CROSS AT MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA

Melbourne, Australia, June 13 (P).—The transpacific monoplane Southern Cross, carrying its crew of four and two passengers flew from Sydney to Melbourne today in six hours, encircled the city and landed perfectly at Essendon Air-drome while 80,000 spectators roared a tumultuous welcome.

The crew, Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and Charles T. P. Ulm, Australian pilots, Navigator Harry Lyon and Radio Operator James Warner, Americans, were greeted as they swept over the city by an escort of nine planes.

In the ship were Captain Kingsford-Smith's mother and Ulm's wife.

MELIK CONCERT A SUCCESS AT WOODSTOCK

The recital given by Zaven Melik at Woodstock Tuesday night was attended by a number of the leading musicians and music lovers at the colony. Mr. Melik made a number of friends, especially with his Russian songs, which were roundly applauded. The ladies, whose organization sponsored the recital, gave a social hour following the program, refreshments were served. Prof. C. Shuts assisted at the piano and rendered several solo numbers.

Business Men to Meet.

An important dinner meeting of the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday, June 14, at 6:30 p. m. The committee on traffic will report.

Burhans Indicted For Manslaughter

Clifford Burhans, a highly respected farmer of Flatbush, was arraigned in county court this morning before Judge Fowler, charged with manslaughter, second degree. On October 15 last, Mr. Burhans had gone hunting squirrels and on his way home he stopped at the residence of Mrs. Rose Fabiano at Ulster Landing. While in the house Mrs. Fabiano asked him if the shot gun was loaded and he replied it was and showed her the safety catch was on the gun. He was demonstrating the operation of the safety catch when the gun was suddenly discharged and Anna Fabiano, 15 years old, who was standing a short distance away, received the full charge of the gun in her lower left side. She was rushed to the Emergency Hospital where she died half an hour later.

The shooting was accidental and Mr. Burhans was admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000. The May grand jury found an indictment charging manslaughter, second degree. On being arraigned Mr. Burhans was represented by John W. Eckert, who entered a plea of not guilty to the charge and asked that bail be fixed. He also asked to be supplied with a copy of the indictment and asked 20 days to make motions or to take action in the matter. Bail was fixed at $2,000 and supplied.

Court adjourned until 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

LOSSES OF PAPER PROFITS IN STOCKS REACH BILLIONS

New York, June 13 (P).—Losses of paper profits in stocks in yesterday's sensational market were reckoned in billions of dollars today. The decline in the market value of General Motors from the high point of the year alone was $550,000,000.

For the first time in the history of the exchange a 5,000,000 share session was recorded, the actual count of shares traded in being placed at 5,193,600.

Many reasons—political and financial—were furnished in the street for the collapse of the great bull market.

Some observers laid it to the apparent failure of the "Draft Coolidge" movement at Kansas City. In other quarters, however, the decline was regarded as a natural correction of the speculative excesses of the past few months, which have been conducted in the main on borrowed capital.

The general market decline, which began Monday, was touched off by the sensational drop in the Bancitaly stocks on the curb exchange. Since April 30 the Giannini stocks have declined from a high of 223 to yesterday's closing price of 132, a paper loss of $473,200,000.

Other factors influencing the decline were the increase in call money rates from 5 1/2 to 6 percent, the calling of $15,000,000 in loans by New York banks, presumably to meet the heavy demand for funds in connection with income tax payments Friday, and the fears of a further increase in Federal Reserve Bank discount rates.

The paper profits of thousands of small speculators have been wiped out and converted into losses in many cases. The ticker recording the transactions was far behind the market all day, and the final quotations on the floor just before the closing bell were not recorded until one hour and 54 minutes after the close. This was another record.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS VISIT LEVENTHAL STORAGE

A group of girls of the domestic science class and their instructor, Miss Hyman, of the Kingston High School visited the cold storage vault of the Leventhal Brothers, Kingston furriers, Tuesday at 4 p. m. They were shown the vault, the only one in the Hudson valley, and were given a talk on how to care for clothing while being worn and while not in use.

The students were also taken into the engine room where the artificial ice is made that furnishes a cool atmosphere for the vault. Mr. Leventhal told them that storage vaults of the type he has are not alone to keep moths from the clothing, but to preserve the cloth or leather. The vault keeps fur and cloth clothing looking as the material does when taken from an animal or fresh from the loom. Examples were furnished for statements made by Mr. Leventhal. He closed his talk with hints on cleaning processes. He stated that furs should be cleaned by a method known as Hollenderizing. By this means the oils of the furs are not destroyed as they many times are by dry cleaning methods.

The students were given a lesson in economics. "Save your garments, be economical. It is cheaper." Upon leaving the store they were given books by Mr. Leventhal telling how to care for clothing.

FORMER WOODSTOCK PASTOR IN VERMONT CHARGE

The Rev. John Frederic Nicholas, D. D., a former pastor of the Woodstock Reformed Church, was installed on May 23 as pastor of the Graniteville, Vermont, Presbyterian Church with a large reception following the installation ceremony.

Dr. Nicholas preached in Kingston churches during his pastorate at Woodstock, and made many friends in this locality during that time. He went to Providence, R. I., where he preached for several years in the Second Presbyterian Church of that city. While in Woodstock, Dr. Nicholas married Miss Martha H. Hyde, daughter of Dr. Rufus J. Hyde of Michigan. He was a D. D. from Yale University. He commenced his career as a missionary in Colorado, later holding successful pastorates at Blue Rapids, Kansas, Bethayres, Pa., Woodstock and Providence, R. I.

 KINGSTON, N. Y., JUNE 13, 1928.

No wonder Europeans regard the United States as a lecturer's paradise, irrespective of the qualifications of the lecturers, for even Senator Heflin can get $250 for a single appearance. It would appear that publicity can provide an audience for anything with two legs and a mustache.

In these times of continuing aviation triumphs the size of the adventure of the Southern Cross's gallant crew is perhaps not fully realized. From California to Hawaii is nearly 2,400 miles and from Hawaii to Fiji about 3,200. Thence to Brisbane, Australia, is "only" 1,700, yet that third hop alone is equal to the distance over the Atlantic from Newfoundland to Ireland.

WEDDING GIFTS.

The graduation gift is an easy matter. Any charming trifle will be appreciated by the recipient. If he does not need it now, he or she can lay it away and use it later. If he likes it now and later his taste outgrows it, why it has served its turn, giver and receiver are happy for the time and that's that. Wedding gifts are a little different. The woman who is carefully purchasing things for her living room in old mahogany may be made miserable by the loveliest possible carved Spanish or Italian floor clock. It's big and it dominates, and the room, instead of being a whole, falls to pieces. One young couple were made unhappy for years by the gift of a very fine rug in colors which they did not care for. It came from so well loved a relative and was in itself so beautiful that it was 10 years before the young woman got up nerve enough to move it upstairs and put a plain taupe carpeting in its place. Lamps are like that, too, and ponderous silver pieces. Buy the ponderous piece by all means if it suits your pleasure and purse. But have an understanding with dealer and bride that it may be exchanged if advisable. If the giver really wants to make the young people happy, he wants them to have what they really want.

LIVING HISTORY.

A young woman, taking a course in history, was assigned the American merchant marine as a subject for a term paper. She went at her task conscientiously. She ransacked dusty shelves in the public library, did hours of reading and research and produced a very respectable summary of what she had learned. The term papers were handed in. The professor liked this one on the merchant marine. He told the young woman he would like to have her read it aloud to the class. It was an honor which pleased her greatly. Then came the catastrophe.

Discussion of other matters in class took longer than the professor intended. He glanced regretfully at the clock, said there was not time to read the excellent paper, and then suggested that its author address the class briefly on the subject of the ship subsidy bill recently passed by Congress and signed by the President. The history student didn't even know the bill had been passed. She had been so intent on her historical research and paper-writing that she hadn't taken time to read the daily newspapers for a month. She wasn't able to tell the class anything at all about the new measure.

Her mistake is one made by too many people. They imagine that history is all in the past and pay no attention to history in the making. By neglecting the daily news they often miss the modern application of their study. It is well to study history and to plan for the future; it is equally essential to be alive to the present.

MORE FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH.

For years Dr. Serge Voronoff, a resident of the capital of France, has devoted himself to a study of the thyroid and other glands in man with a view to the abolition of death, and he is now reported to have progressed so far in his ambitious labors that he announces—or "hints"—that he will soon be able to renew the youth of all old men, not once only but repeatedly, thus enabling them to go on living indefinitely. Naturally this alluring promise has caused much talk and no little hectic excitement. What a happy discovery this!—particularly in these times when scientists have disturbed the bright dream of all the ages by their dream that there can be so much thing as personal immortality beyond the grave. What if they have devised humanity the old pleasing hope, have we not now the assurance of Dr. Voronoff that he can provide for immortality right here on earth?

So—according to the reports—publishing letters in the wonder-working Voronoff raced through Paris on errands of mercy, carrying the glad news to all the near-entireties and very old men they knew—only to be amazed to find that the tottering old fellows declined to share their enthusiasm, even announcing that they would have none either of Voronoff or his "fountain of youth". They "almost unanimously" agreed, in one form of expression or another, with the aged man who said: "No, I want to go home. It is dusk and I am glad of it." Have they reached a stage of life where a perception behind their old dimmed eyes has laid hold on something immeasurably beyond the reach of the gaze of even the mighty Voronoff?

TREATING STOMACH AND INTESTINAL ULCER.

There are now so many cases of ulcer of the stomach and ulcer of the first part of the intestine (duodenal ulcer), that all over the world the treatment for same is becoming standardized.

As you know it is now agreed that it is the hydrochloric acid of the stomach juice getting into the little ulcer that causes the pain. That when digestion reaches a certain point and the hydrochloric acid gets a certain strength in the stomach juice, a definite time in most cases, usually two to three hours, the pain commences and remains until more food is eaten. The food eases the pain until digestion gets to the definite point again, when it comes on again.

Now as it is definitely proven that it is the acid juice that causes the pain you would expect the natural treatment to be the use of alkalies; and such is the case.

For many years now baking soda has been the great standby for these patients.

Working from the standpoint that if enough soda or alkali is given to neutralize the acid and prevent pain, some British physicians are advising the use of huge doses of the alkalies daily, thus giving the ulcer a chance to heal. They use a powder with baking soda 1 part; magnesium carbonate 2 parts; bismuth subcarbonate 2 parts; and these doses are a teaspoonful, level, every two hours, taken in water or milk. If in addition to these powders the patient restricts himself to a liquid diet, he loses his symptoms and the pain ceases within a day or two. If after a few days of treatment the patient still complains of pain it is probable that it is not an ulcer. This is of help in the diagnosis.

These physicians recommend that this alkaline treatment with these powders be kept up even during the night if possible, and so give the patient a double dose immediately before retiring.

Also a couple of powders are left at his bedside and he is advised to take one if he has any pain during the night.

After a few weeks the amount of powder is reduced until it is gradually left off.

Stomach and duodenal ulcers are now being cured in this manner, thus lessening the number of surgical operations; is only too true, nevertheless it means care in eating ever after because it is not difficult to start the trouble again.

Of course, there will always be some cases that will require operations.

THE PLATE GLASS TEST: This glass is pressed against a Silvertowns tread to illustrate the important facts explained below.

Here's why Silvertowns deliver remarkable new mileage!

Inside a balloon tire, there's a pressure of 30 to 40 pounds.

Against this is an outside pressure of several hundred pounds, or more than a thousand, where the tread meets the road. Something has to give—in a hurry—when that tire speeds along at thirty miles an hour.

Now look back at the picture. Let your eye follow those three deep grooves in the tread center. See how they come together against the ground—easily—smoothly—without distortion or "piling up."

There's the reason the Silvertowns we sell are rolling out new mileage records on many of our customers' cars.

Drop in and see us, and you will like our courteous service as well as you like our tires.

Library Plans At Woodstock

A meeting of the trustees of the Woodstock Club, Inc., was held Monday night at the Woodstock library. The treasurer's report showed that fiscal year began June 1, 1927, 50 members had renewed with total subscriptions of $770. Last year there were 350 members. A budget of $1,500 is needed for the current expenses for the present year, just begun.

The trustees elected officers as follows: President, G. C. Schrader; vice president, Victor Lasher; secretary, Miss Marion Eames; treasurer, Harvey I. Todd. Mrs. Julius Cook was elected new trustee to fill vacancy left by withdrawal of Mrs. Harry Temple. For committees the following chairman were chosen: Library, Mrs. Alice Thompson; membership, Miss Alice Wargawell; house and grounds, George Neher, V. Lasher and Mrs. H. J. McFee.

The house and grounds committee was authorized to install a new electric meter in the library building; Miss Eames, Mr. Todd and Mr. Neher were appointed to draw up the new budget; the library committee was authorized to draw $50 for new books against subsequent budget appropriations; motion was made to join the American Library Association; the summer schedule will begin June 15, when the library will be open daily (save Sunday and Monday) from 3:30 to 6:30 p. m.

The librarian's report showed 515 books added last year by purchase and gift; total in library, 4,603. Circulation, 2,721; active readers, 175. The treasurer's report showed receipts of $755 from sales and entertainments last year; $250 from rent. Expenditures for salaries, books, repairs, etc., were $1,500. There was a balance of $764.22 on hand.

The following trustees were present at the meeting: Miss Marion Eames, Miss Rhoda Chase, Mrs. H. J. McFee, Mrs. Robert Strain, Mrs. Alice Thompson, George Neher, Victor Lasher, G. C. Schrader, John L. Banks, Leon Whipple, Harvey I. Todd and F. G. Clough.

GAS BUGGIES—Such Is Love.

"Slide, Kelly, Slide." Ten thousand husky voices called for Kelly to do his stuff. Frenziedly and excitedly they repeated their cry. With a supreme dash of speed Kelly responded. He summoned his utmost wind and applied it to the mouthpiece of his trombone, and slid and slid, and slid.

"You have been a good boy. Papa's going to buy you a nice violin." "Goodie! Now I won't have to get my hair cut."

He: "Oh, you mustn't blame me for my ancestors." She: "I don't. I blame them for you."

Prophetless Prosperity. First Roman (at Christian massacre): "We've got a capacity crowd, but still we're losing money. The upkeep of the lions must be pretty heavy." Second Roman: Yes, sir. These lions sure do eat up the prophets.

Man reaches "middle age" about twenty years before a woman.

Three o'clock in the Morning. "Heard the 'Walter Song'?" "No, what is it?" "Show me the Walter Go Home."

Anxious Mother—What did you do with the medicine the doctor left for you, dear?

Johnny—A poor little sick boy around the corner didn't have any so I gave it to him.

Bob—"Yes, certainly I understand women." Bill—"What do they mean when they hold out their hand in the car ahead?"

Peter was playing at Johnny's house. When it was time to go home it started to rain. Mrs. White, however, gave Peter Johnny's raincoat and galoshes.

"Don't take so much trouble, Mrs. White," said Peter politely. "I'm sure your mother would do as much for Johnny," she replied.

"My mother would do more," said Peter. "She'd ask Johnny to stay to supper."

"Mother," asked the young boy, "where do the letters go when teacher erases them from the blackboard?"

"The same place your father's pants go when he spills acid on them," replied the patient wife of a battery dealer.

It's a wise candidate who knows his own friends.

Automobilists are not the only persons who may run people down. There are the ladies' sewing circles.

A couple of neighbors were discussing their respective husbands.

"Is your husband generous with spending money?" asked Mrs. Slab.

"I guess he must be," returned Mrs. Drab tartly. "I never see any."

Professor—"When will it be convenient for your daughter to take her music lesson?"

Dad—"Any time when I'm not at home."

Character is what you are if you can drive with one hand and not.

"This is sure a great country," said the recently arrived Swede lumberjack. "The foreman just told me you could buy a five-dollar money order for three cents."

"Who gets the most out of married life?" asked a writer. American film stars; they are always getting out of it.

Definition of a raise: "The increase of pay you get just before going into debt a little farther."

Why worry about the rain? It has its good features. It has broken up many a disgusting picnic.

Boy Scout Camp To Open July 5

Camp Mikanakawa to Remain Open
Until August 15—Camp Better
Equipped than Formerly—Boys
Anxious to Start.

It won't be long now before the boys will be hitting for the open. School will soon be over and the great outdoors is calling. Camping is in the air. The normal boy longs for this adventure and responds. To meet these natural longings of the real, red-blooded boy, the Ulster County Council, Boy Scouts of America, is planning the best camp which it has ever conducted.

Camp Mikanakawa, the name of the Scout camp (meaning "I make a trail for him") will run for six weeks beginning Thursday, July 5, and close Wednesday, August 15. The camp will be under the personal supervision of Howard N. Smith, Scout executive of Ulster county, who will be assisted by a corps of competent leaders.

Much stress will be laid on the program this season. It is not only desirable that the boys have a good time but it is very essential that they be taught how to care for themselves and others at all times. Also that they be taught certain useful things including campcraft, woodcraft, nature study and such like. Provision will be made for instruction in and the passing of Scout requirements.

Better Equipment This Year.

The physical equipment of the camp is much better than previously. The permanent lodge and indeed the property itself have been made available by the fine spirit of generosity of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs of Kingston. These organizations will be represented on the camp committee and will see that the high standards are maintained. A friend has donated a new $200 hotel range which will be of great service. New boats have been added. Additional cots and tents will be provided. It will be the first time that the camp has been properly equipped. This equipment, however, is not complete and will have to be added to from time to time.

Much is made of swimming and life saving under the Red Cross regulations. A new swimming crib will be provided. Safety first, last and all the time is the slogan. Three checking systems are used while swimming. No swimming except at stated periods, yet plenty of time is devoted to this activity.

Camp Has High Rating.

Camp Mikanakawa last year received a very high rating from National Headquarters. Excerpts of the letter follow:

"We are pleased to announce that a careful analysis of your camp report reveals that Camp Mikanakawa is entitled to a 'B' Grade plus 18 additional points."

"Congratulations on this splendid achievement. Several of the requirements for the Excellent Grade have already been complied with, as indicated on your inspection report."

"We find that a modification in the layout of the camp to accommodate Scoutmasters with their own Troops, is a step in the right direction. Units of this kind will afford an opportunity for training, under expert leadership, which will prepare the Scoutmaster to camp on his own according to Council standards whenever the opportunity presents itself, whether week-end, short-term or summer camp expeditions."

ROSENDALE.

Rosendale, June 13.—Mrs. Simon Weiss has returned from a visit to New York.

Monday, June 4, the district superintendent of schools, Miss Emily C. Burnett, held the annual spelling contest at the Union Free School.

First prize, a beautiful pencil box, was awarded Clara Delany. Harold Henze was second highest.

The Regents' examinations will take place at the school house from June 18 to 20.

Miss Gertrude McAvoy spent the week end with her parents in this village.

Miss Annie Barry of New York city spent Monday in this village, renewing old acquaintances.

The Parent-Teacher Association held its June meeting at the school house on Friday past. Plans were made for the annual school picnic to take place when school closes. It was decided to hold a card party at the fire company's rooms on Wednesday evening, June 13, 8 o'clock. Admission will include refreshments.

Mrs. Charlotte Osterhout and her friend, Mrs. Kuhn, have returned to this village to spend the summer.

Mrs. Marquard, who has been spending some time in New York city, has returned to this village. She is confined to her home with the grip and is under the care of Dr. William Bush.

Mr. and Mrs. John Olry are visiting friends in New York city.

Sam Gorslin had the misfortune to injure his arm recently.

The June meeting of the Missionary Society of the Reformed Church will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry West on Wednesday, June 13, at 2 p. m. Everyone is welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wernit of New York were week end guests at the Wasp Cottage.

Mrs. Charles Ten Hagen while taking X-ray treatments in New York is visiting friends at Valley Stream, L. I.

Bishop Shipman of New York will be present at All Saints' Episcopal Church on Tuesday evening for confirmation.

Miss Mina Swan of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Alan S. MacKenzie.

The praise and prayer service will be held at the Reformed Church on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. All may come and enjoy a blessed time. Alan MacKenzie is somewhat improved.

Children's Day services will be observed at the Reformed Church Sunday, June 17, at 11:15 a. m. A special children's sermon will be delivered by the pastor, the Rev. C. V. W. Bedford. Parents desiring to have children baptized may do so at this service. A cordial welcome is extended to everyone.

Services will be held in the Baptist Church Sunday evening at 7:45, under the leadership of the Rev. J. S. Stowell.

Residents here are glad to hear a doctor is soon to locate permanently in this village.

Removing Tarnish

Rottenstone mixed with oil to a creamy consistency is the common frictional agent used for removing tarnish from copper, brass and bronze. After this cleaner has been applied the metal should be polished with a soft cloth. A final rubbing with dry rottenstone or whiting will give the metal an even brighter luster.

Hot Water Is Cooling In Hot Weather

When merry notes come wafting from the bathroom to the accompanying splash of bath tub or shower, all's right with the world. A well regulated shower, plenty of large, rough towels and an unfailing supply of hot water—that's solid comfort. And we all know that in hot weather a hot tub or shower is more cooling than a cold one.

A GAS STORAGE WATER HEATER in the home means that hot water is on tap at every moment of the day ready to flow forth at the turn of the faucet—sufficient for all personal and household needs at very low operating cost. Any of the following plumbers in your territory will be glad to tell you more about gas storage water heaters, or you may view the models on display in our sales floor.

Local Firemen Yield to Union

"It is just a question of two days' work," said Martin Schleede.

Graney's Resolution.

Michael Graney moved that "We have no music in the convention hall," but the motion was not seconded in the general discussion that followed.

William S. Campbell, of the Exempt Firemen, suggested that no attention be paid to the union, while William H. Martin, business manager of the Excelsior Hose Band, believed matters should go along as they now stood as no answer had been received from the local union in response to the last letter sent them.

Moran Offered Resolution.

Chairman Moran turned the gavel over to Secretary Port while he took the floor and offered a resolution that the vote on the convention contract be reconsidered. It was seconded by Michael Graney.

Mr. Martin declared that the motion was out of order as the committee had nothing to act on.

Dr. Morton Low, of the Central Business Association, said that the motion was proper and it should be voted on. He said he was not present to discuss union or non-union music but believed that everything should be done to promote harmony and make the convention a success.

Riber Offers Amendment.

Mr. Riber, of the Downtown Business Men's Association, said that the parade as planned promised to be a credit to the city. He said that the firemen were being ridiculed by the entire city for not being able to settle the music question. He believed that if the music for the convention hall was eliminated entirely the matter would be settled, and offered as an amendment to the Moran motion that the committee entirely eliminate a band from the convention hall for the two days.

Mr. Moran that amendment," said Mr. Moran.

Ray Whitbeck said he thought the amendment was in order.

"If you eliminate a band from the convention hall, it will be the first in thirty years," said Mr. Kolts.

Offers to Donate Band.

Mr. Martin said that to eliminate friction, he would donate the services of the Excelsior Hose Band for the two days free.

"What bearing will that have on the day of the parade?" asked Mr. Kolts.

Chief Murphy Takes Floor.

When it looked as though the committee was about to engage in a lengthy verbal battle, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy took the floor and made his position clear. He said that he did not see the sense of pussyfooting around about the letters that had been written. The Musicians' Union had stated its position. Mr. Ward, president of the local union, had been asked on the floor at a previous meeting if the union was given one day's playing at the convention would it lift the ban on the day of the parade and Mr. Ward had said "No."

Chief Murphy said that the music question should be settled that night. No matter what action was taken, the chief said that he had made his plans for the parade and it would start promptly at 2 o'clock. "Those who are going to parade can do so. Those who do not, can step to one side."

"There is no need waiting for any more letters from the Musicians' Union," said the chief. He said that if the parade was a fizzle, the blame would not rest on the general committee but would rest with the fire chief. He said that he would be guided entirely by the vote of the committee. He was not taking sides in the controversy, but it seemed to him that the committee should be able to settle the question.

Moran Called for His Motion.

As the chief retired from the floor Chairman Moran called for his motion that the vote taken at a previous meeting regarding the band contract be reconsidered.

Motion Is Carried.

The vote on the motion was taken and resulted in Moran's motion being carried by a vote of 24 to 22.

Kolts Makes Motion.

Mr. Kolts moved that the Citizens' Band be awarded the contract and L. E. Dunne amended that the band be limited to no more than twelve pieces.

Martin Schleede said that he believed the question of hiring a band was up to the music committee.

Mr. Martin offered as an amendment that Excelsior Hose Band donate its services.

Schleede Moved for Recess.

Martin Schleede again expressed the opinion that the music committee was able to handle the question and moved that the committee take a recess of five minutes to allow the music committee to meet and make a report.

Dr. Low said he agreed with Mr. Schleede but believed that the committee should inform the music committee that it favored having a union band awarded the contract.

Mr. Kolts said he would withdraw his motion in regard to awarding the contract to the Citizens' Band.

Music Committee Reports.

A recess of five minutes was then taken and the music committee met and went on record as favoring the awarding of the contract for the two days' playing at the convention to Costello's Band of this city, a union organization.

The report of the music committee was adopted, and the general committee then adjourned to next Monday evening.

Rosendale Card Party.

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold a pinocle and euchre party this evening, at Firemen's Hall, Rosendale. Refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited.

ONLY EIGHT PERCENT OF WORKMEN OWN HOMES

While the prosperity of America depends upon the stability of its 12 million workmen, only eight percent are home-owners, declared Fenton B. Turck, chairman of the Industrial Division of the Better Relations Commission in a speech delivered before the New York State League of the Building and Loan Associations at their annual meeting at Lake Mohonk last week.

"There have been a great many moves to solve the housing problem," said Mr. Turck, "but the only move of any significance is to help the workman help himself. Building and Loan Associations are largely responsible for the community spirit in America."

"When investigations were made in some of the large industrial plants of the country only eight out of every 100 men were home owners. But when these workers were given the opportunity to achieve self-reliance through the Building and Loan Association one-third of them grasp the opportunity."

"Unquestionably, New York, one of the leading industrial states, provides a fertile field for the work of Building and Loan Associations in building prosperity for every community."

P. T. A. 6 Meeting.

On Tuesday the Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 6, held its last meeting for the school year, the new president, Mrs. Becker, presiding. The meeting, which was well attended, opened with music. The five dollar attendance prizes were awarded to Miss Edson's and Miss Netter's rooms. A very interesting statistical report given by Principal Miner showed the pupils of the school had banked $5,845.18 during the present year. A social hour followed the meeting. Ice cream and wafers were served by the refreshment committee.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 13 (AP).—Responding to the placing of large supporting orders and the buying of "bargain hunters" stock prices made a brisk recovery today after the disastrous break of yesterday.

A few soft spots cropped out here and there, but the general trend was upward. Standard industrial and rail rallied one to five points and several of the specialties were marked up six to nearly ten points.

Trading, which crossed the 5,000,000 share mark yesterday, for the first time in stock exchange history, was only moderate in volume today.

Call money renewed at six percent with a fair supply available in view of the heavy mid-month demand for funds.

While the morning rally helped to revive confidence, considerable uneasiness was still apparent with a rather widespread tendency on the part of many traders to lighten holdings on the rallies. R. H. Macy and National Tea, which did not sell yesterday, changed hands today at prices 49 and 22 points, respectively, below their previous quotations.

Rossia Insurance broke 15 points to 145, but made up its loss by early afternoon. Radio opened five points higher at 175, but encountered rather stiff resistance around that level and was pushed back several points.

The recovery was stimulated however, by two pieces of bullish news developments, confirmation of reports that negotiations were pending for a merger of the Pierce Arrow and Studebaker automobile companies and an advance in Pennsylvania crude prices, the first since December, 1927. Weekly steel trade reviews report a further falling off in production with new business light in volume.

High priced specialties led the rally. Case Threshing Machine was up 9 points, Curtiss Aeroplane 7, Pierce Arrow preferred, 6 1/2; International Telephone and Wright Aeronautical six each, and American Express, Allied Chemical, Adams Express, American Linseed, American Telephone and National Biscuit, 5 points or more.

Among the many issues to sell three to four points higher were General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, American International, New York Central, Union Pacific and Consolidated Gas.

About the Folks

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mathews of Long Beach, California, have left for their home after spending two weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Adams, 46 Hurley avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. George Winters of Resende are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a son, George Joseph. Both mother and son are doing nicely under the care of Dr. L. G. Rymph.

Miss Marie Murphy of O'Neil street and Margaret Conroy of Hurley street have returned from New York city, where they attended the graduation exercises of the Academy of Our Lady of Lourdes.

COLUMBIA NOT LIKELY TO TAKE OFF TODAY

Harbor Grace, N. F., June 13 (AP).—Indications early this afternoon were that the monoplane Columbia would not take off today on the continuation of its transatlantic flight with Miss Mabel Boll and her companions. Captain Oliver Lehoultier, chief pilot; Arthur Argles, co-pilot. The full supply of fuel which for several weeks has been awaiting the Columbia here will be placed aboard the first thing today and, unless unforeseen trouble develops, all will be ready for the eastward takeoff.

The flight yesterday from New York city was made in scarcely more than 11 hours, mostly through clear weather. Progress was bumpy, however, due to a 35 mile head wind which held all the way.

Central to Sell Trolley Holdings.
New York, June 13 (AP).—The New York Central Railroad announced today that it had completed negotiations for the sale of its majority holdings in the Mohawk Valley Company at $75 a share and the New York State Railways at $25 a share.

Shensi Troops Take Tientsin.
Tientsin, China, June 13 (AP).—Meeting but little resistance, Shensi troops have taken Tientsin and today the public buildings were flying the National flag in place of the Republican standard.

Scout Minstrel Much Enjoyed

St. Mary's Boy Scout Troop, No. 2, presented its minstrel performance for the final time Tuesday night before a large audience. Applause echoed through the large hall of St. Mary's Parish as the various offerings were put on. Dancing was enjoyed after the show as were refreshments.

After the closing chorus the Very Rev. Joseph B. Scully, pastor, thanked those who helped in the success of the minstrel, not forgetting the members of the large audience. David L. Long, who has put across many such a successful event, was highly lauded by Father Scully for his accomplishment as director of the show. Miss Margaret Feeney, who gave much of her time in playing for the rehearsals of the cast, received the heartiest of thanks by the priest. Father Scully spoke of the wonderful work the Rev. William H. Kennedy is doing among the Scouts. He is the spiritual director of the troop, but aside from completing his duty has also devoted much of his time to see that the boys progress along the lines of scouting.

In his talk Father Scully mentioned the Course in Eurythmy being conducted at the Knights of Columbus Hall under the auspices of this organization. It is open for the public and the men were urged to attend the sessions, which will end Thursday, to learn more about boys.

Strawberry trading was generally slow and commission merchants had difficulty in sustaining yesterday's values despite relatively light arrivals. Offerings from the lower and upper Hudson valley peddled out as high as 18 cents per quart for the very finest, and as low as 7 cents on the poorest. Shipments from other sections sold in about the same range.

WOODSTOCK JOURNALIST HAS TURNED AUTHOR

(By F. G. Clough)

Frank Schoonmaker of Woodstock, former editor of the Hue and Cry, summer publication at the art colony, has come to the front in a very successful way as the author of several travel books. He left Woodstock two years ago and made a trip through Europe, publishing later a book entitled "Seeing Europe on Two Dollars a Day," which has been one of the leading travel books sold throughout the United States since that time. Mr. Schoonmaker has now appeared with the first two of a series, published by Robert McBride and Co., "Come With Me Through France," and "Come With Me Through Belgium and Holland." The third volume, "Come With Me Through Italy," will appear in the early autumn of this year.

In these books, the author has given the practical side of traveling, telling what one might see, and how one might get the greatest value for his money. These books are not Baedekers, neither are they guides in the ordinary sense; they aim, to use the author's own words, "to bring order into the vast chaos of travel information, to choose the important and discard the unimportant, and to make a readable and interesting account."

Some of the Kingston merchants will remember this tall, energetic young lad, who a few summers ago solicited advertising for the Hue and Cry at Woodstock. Frank Schoonmaker has just come from Cordoba into Germany for more travel data; his parents are spending the summer season at their home in Woodstock. Scarcely over twenty years of age, Frank Schoonmaker utilizes a talent for writing, a zest for adventure, and an enthusiasm of youth in his new and remarkably successful authorship. His many friends at Woodstock are offering congratulations to Frank, and to his parents, for the rapid appearance on national book lists of his recent and successive volumes.

Section Hand Killed

Corning, N. Y., June 13 (AP).—James Blanchard, 53, of Elmira, a section hand on the Erie Railroad, was instantly killed today when struck by a westbound passenger train. Blanchard, with a number of other men, was working about six miles east of Corning.

Society Notes

Almira-Perry.
Anthony Perry of 7 Birch street and Miss Mary Perry of 20 Willow street were married on Sunday by the Rev. W. H. Kennedy, of St. Mary's Church. They were attended by Eugene Perry and Angelina Perry.

Little Gardens Club.
The mid-June meeting of the Little Gardens Club will take place at the home of Mrs. Helen Loughran, No. 2 Birch street, on Friday afternoon of this week. All those who will be unable to be present are asked to notify the hostess. It is desired that all members attending bring condensed and timely information about delphinium.

Moham-Irwin.
On Sunday afternoon at St. Mary's Church a very pretty wedding took place when Ames Irwin, daughter of John E. Irwin of 17 Hasbrouck avenue, became the bride of George Moham, son of Mrs. Abbey Moham, of 155 Broadway. As the bride party entered the church Mrs. John Kelly of Jersey City rendered "O Promise Me," accompanied by Professor Reiser at the organ. The attendants at the ceremony were: Thomas O'Rourke, Miss Feeney and William Kennedy were the officiating clergyman. After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home.

Sunday School Class Entertained.
Myosotis Class of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Sunday school attended class meeting at the home of Miss Ernestine Hesley at West Shokan Monday evening. It being Miss Hesley's birthday, a large cake with lighted candles was presented to her. The meeting closed with Bible reading and prayer. During the evening a fine concert was served after which a musical program was rendered. Members of the class present were: Mrs. Emory Hapner, Mrs. Joseph Verry, Mr. and Mrs. Borrom Mayer, the Misses Mary and Gladys Ruschke, Emma Palen, Gladys Silkworth, Maude Shurtler, Evelyn Lasher, Beulah Terwilliger and Ernestine Hesley.

Smith-Adams.
A very pretty wedding took place Sunday, June 10, at 2:45 at St. James Church when Miss Ruth Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Adams, became the bride of Harry Smith, son of Goldie Smith. The bride looked very pretty in a gown of white satin and a veil caught with white blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was Mrs. Charles Mathews, sister of the bride, who wore peach crepe with picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of tea roses. The ushers were Henry Engel and Joseph Flowers. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. The bride and groom left for Syracuse amid a shower of rice and confetti. They have a host of friends that wish them a long and happy married life.

A Surprise Shower.
A miscellaneous surprise shower was tendered Ruth Adams in honor of her marriage to Harry Smith, at the home of Mrs. Henry Engel. The home was artistically decorated in pink and rose. The bride was the recipient of many pretty and useful gifts. The evening was delightfully spent with games and music and refreshments were served later. At a late hour the guests departed wishing her a long and happy married life. Among those present were the Misses Billie Wright, Bertha Reese, Mrs. Mary Kierman, Mrs. John Barton, Mrs. Kilduff Chambers, Mrs. Francis Grimm, Mrs. Herbert Myers, Mrs. Carlton Dero, Mrs. Fred Supple, Miss Marion Robinson, Leonard Kelly, Mrs. Virgil Wager, Mrs. Charles Lord, Mrs. Charles Lord, Jr., Mrs. Henry Engel, Sr., Mrs. Charles Mathews, Mrs. Goldie Smith, Mrs. Joseph Flowers, Mrs. Carlton Bowser, Mrs. Ed. O'Neil, Mrs. George Adams and Mrs. Henry Engel.

Perry-Naccarato.
A very pretty wedding was celebrated at St. Mary's Church Sunday afternoon, June 2, when the Rev. Francis X. FitzPatrick united in marriage Miss Mary Naccarato, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Naccarato of 181 Delaware avenue and Robert Perry of 12 Gill street, this city. They were attended by Miss Mary Dominico, maid of honor, who was dressed in a bright shade of lavender and carried a bouquet of white carnations; Thomas Naccarato, brother of the bride, best man; Miss Mary Turk, bridesmaid, carried in pink tulle trimmed with chiffon lace; James and Catherine Amato, cousins of the bride, as flower bearers, who carried pink roses and white carnations; Roscoe Perry, cousin of the bridegroom with Camilla, sister of the bride, who was dressed in a pretty shade of yellow crepe de chine and A. Perry and Lillian Perry, brother and sister of the bridegroom. Miss Perry was dressed in an apple green canton crepe. The bride wore a beautiful dress of white flat crepe, trimmed with beads and spankles, off her satin sash. Her veil of imitation diamonds was caught with a bouquet of white roses. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The wedding guests numbered nearly 200, who enjoyed the happy occasion, and showered the couple with beautiful and useful presents while wishing them a happy and prosperous married life.

Firemen's Carnival Tonight

The M. J. Lapp Shows, consisting of various novelties, rides and concessions, will open under auspices of Excelsior Hose Company, at the Mutton Hollow grounds tonight. Owing to unforeseen difficulties the shows did not arrive until Tuesday, which makes the opening a tardy one. There will be a band concert as an added attraction each afternoon and evening. Plenty of parking space will be available.

Lomski-Latzo Battle Tonight

New York, June 13 (AP).—Leo Lomski and Pete Latzo, exponents of the art of zaiding in and taking ten to give one, slug it out over the ten-round route at Ebbets Field tonight.

Members of Aretas Lodge of Odd Fellows will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at their lodge rooms, Broadway and Thomas street, from where they will repair in a body to the home of their late brother, William Henry McFerris, and conduct services.

Charles W. Hannan, for the past 20 years an admirer of the late Ware, Lehigh and Western Railroad, died Monday afternoon in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh. He was born in that city and was graduated from the Newburgh Academy. He worked at Scranton, Pa.

Joseph Fitzpatrick, Spanish-American War veteran, died at his home in Marlborough on Monday, where he had resided for 20 years. His wife, two sisters and two brothers, who reside in Paterson, survive. Funeral Thursday morning at St. Mary's Church, Marlborough, with interment in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery in Paterson, N. J.

Mary Murphy, widow of John Dolan, died early this morning at her home, 533 Delaware avenue. Mrs. Dolan had lived in the downtown section of the city all her life and was well known and highly respected. She was a faithful and devout member of St. Mary's Church and of the Rosary Society and the L. C. B. A. of St. Mary's. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Anna Dolan Murphy. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Alfred K. Steeger of Albany avenue extension died Tuesday night at the City of Kingston Hospital following a major operation. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Harold and Alfred, Jr., one daughter, Edna, wife of John L. Slizewski, two grandchildren; his father, Charles R. Steeger; three brothers, Robert and Harry of Kingston and Augustus of Albuquerque, N. M.; three sisters, Katherine, wife of S. George of Waukegan, Ill.; Grace, wife of Fred Travers, Kingston; and Selecta, wife of John Connolly of Racine, Wis. Funeral from the residence of his brother, Robert Steeger, 86 Gage street, Saturday at 9 a. m. and at Holy Cross Church at 9:30 o'clock. Interment in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Thomas Rafferty was held from her late home, 46 Tompkins street, this morning at 9:30 and at 10 o'clock at St. Mary's Church where the Rev. William H. Kennedy offered a solemn Mass of requiem for the repose of her soul, assisted by the Rev. Francis X. FitzPatrick, deacon and the Rev. John J. Byrne of East Kingston, subdeacon. A large funeral cortege and profusion of beautiful flowers attested the high esteem in which the deceased was held. Interment was in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery where the final absolution was pronounced by the Rev. Father Kennedy. The bearers were nephews of the deceased, Joseph L. Murphy, Arthur Rafferty, Thomas Rafferty and Thomas Burke.

The funeral of Mary A. Keegan was held from her late home, 35 Ann street, this morning at 9:45 and at 10:30 o'clock at St. Mary's Church. A solemn Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Francis X. FitzPatrick, assisted by the Rev. William H. Kennedy, deacon and the Rev. John J. Byrne of East Kingston, subdeacon. Responses to the Mass were sung by the choir of St. Mary's Church. The funeral cortege was a large one and a number of beautiful floral pieces added in testimony to the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The bearers were Thomas Feeney, Louis H. Koits, Michael Grady, John McGrane, Peter Kearney and John McAndrew. Interment was in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery, where the final absolution was pronounced by the Rev. Father FitzPatrick.

The funeral of Peter Fox was held from his late home, No. 29 West Chester street, this morning at 9 o'clock and at 9:30 at St. Peter's Church where a requiem Mass was celebrated for the repose of his soul by the Rev. John P. Newmann. The services were very largely attended by his many relatives, friends and neighbors. Nearly the entire Board of Supervisors attended the services in a body, there being also a delegation from the Rondout Yacht Club, Tuesday evening Father Neumann and Huband with a large delegation from the St. Peter's Holy Name Society went to the home to recite the Rosary and scores of friends came to pay their last respects to his memory. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, testifying to the high esteem in which he was held by all who knew him. The bearers were Peter, John, Richard and Eugene Schick, nephews; John Pfommer, a fellow employee at the Van Wackeren store, and Alfred Schmidt of the Rondout Yacht Club. The remains were placed in a state vault in the family plot in St. Peter's cemetery where the final absolution was given by the Rev. Father Neumann.

Empire Wilson Dies

New York, June 13 (AP).—The National League has lost one of its best umpires by the death of Frank Wilson. The Brooklyn arbiter was taken ill with appendicitis a week ago Monday. Operations were performed on Wednesday and Friday, but Wilson failed to rally and succumbed last night. He is survived by his widow and two sons who were with him when he died.

Farmers Don't Want Hoover

Hoover Bands on Parade.
In the heyday after weeks of nervous tension Hoover's stalwarts kept the streets and hotel lobbies resounding until the morning hours with their paens of exultation. They fitted up a double-decked bus with canvas sides bearing likenesses of Hoover and the Republican elephant, put a band on top, labelled it "The Hoover Bandwagon," and trundled it through the hotel section to the accompaniment of jazz and cheering.

Another Hoover band made a stamping ground of the lobby of the Baltimore Hotel, so that the challenging strains of "California, Here I Come" loaded up through the open door of loaded headquarters on the mezzanine floor just above.

Two girls in gaudy Spanish costumes distributed imitation California poppies, the badge of the Hoover legion, everywhere. One of the orange-colored blossoms was slipped into the buttonhole of the dark blue frock coat of Secretary Mellon, and he let it stay.

Business Not Brisk

At the headquarters of all of the allied candidates against Hoover the official motto was "Business as Usual," but business was not brisk. Those who gathered for consultation turned over in their minds all sorts of proposals for giving visible evidence of their protest against the nomination of their common antagonist.

One suggestion was that the Lowden-Curtis-Watson-Norris-Goff delegates unite on a single candidate and give him their undivided support on the nomination roll call to demonstrate their desire and ability to hold their lines to the end. One delegate suggested that the entire allied block absent itself from at least one session of the convention, so that stretches of empty seats could testify mutely against Hoover.

Talk Openly of Bolt

The handful of non-partisan league delegates from North Dakota talked openly of a bolt, disavowing with the unanimous sentiment of allied leaders that while the coalition forces should live up to the name of irrepressibles, they must not become irreconcilables.

There was no evidence that any of these discussions would lead anywhere. Never closely knit, the alliance against Hoover had been so badly jolted by the developments of the past twenty-four hours that it was doubtful whether further agreements would be possible on any major plan of operation.

Odds and Ends

A regular meeting of Trinity Lutheran Brotherhood will be held in the Sunday school room on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

An old fashioned dance will be held this evening at Pete Boice's on the Plank Road. A good time is promised all who attend.

A special meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Livingston Street Lutheran Church will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

The Jr. G. E. S. will hold a card party in Holy Cross Parish House tonight at 8 o'clock. Mrs. E. Vredenburg will have charge. Refreshments will be served.

Dr. Cadman at "Y. M." Banquet

The Young Men's Christian Association will hold its annual meeting on Thursday, June 21, at the Regency Hotel. The banquet at 8 o'clock will be attended by a large number of the members of the association and several of the directors of the business community of the city.

It has been customary for a great many years for the association to invite an outside man as a speaker for the occasion. This year the "Y." has been fortunate in securing the Rev. S. Parker Cadman to deliver the address. Dr. Cadman should be one of the best drawing cards for this kind of an occasion available.

The committee was only able to secure him through hard efforts for about three weeks, and finally, when knowing that only one date was open that of June 21, and all the rest taken for the next eighteen months, was glad to negotiate for that with him.

Boyology at Legion Home

The free course in Boyology for all the men of the city residents of their affiliation, which for the past week has been conducted at the Knights of Columbus hall, will be given at the American Legion building on West 10th street. The local Knights club there go granted permission to the city of Kingston to use the building for their conducting course, before the necessary change.

Joseph D. Barker, national secretary of Knights of Columbus Supreme Council, Boy Life Bureau, who is giving the course, is one of the most skilled instructors in this work in the country and those who have taken the course here are well pleased. Cooperation with the Knights of Columbus project are the American Red Cross, the Big Brother Federation, Playground and Recreation Association of America and the Boy Scouts of America.

This evening the principal speaker will be Roy O. Wyland, head of the church relations department and the education department of the Boy Scouts of America. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock.

At 7 o'clock tonight at the Knights of Columbus hall a meeting will be held for members of the Knights of Columbus, when the Columbian Squares will be formally organized.

Tuesday evening's session proved very interesting when local Boy Scouts under the direction of Executive Smith gave a demonstration. Knot tying proved very interesting to the men.

Thursday evening the banquet and awarding of diplomas will take place. The banquet will be at McCabe's Restaurant at 7:15 o'clock. The last chance to secure tickets for the banquet will be at the session this evening. The valedictorian will also be chosen.

STATE TROOPER PUT OUT THREATENING BLAZE

Edward Merkel, member of Troop G of the Troy barracks of the State Troopers, put out a blaze that threatened heavy damage to the home of Supervisor Clarence F. Travis of Catskill Monday afternoon. Merkel noticed smoke pouring from the cellar and upon investigation found a fire under a beam near a gas meter. He shut off the gas and conquered the blaze with a garden hose.

Merkel, who was in Catskill to attend the funeral of his grandfather, Captain George W. Ronk, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Merkel of Catskill.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould,
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

New York, June 13 (AP)—In spite of dwindling gate receipts, a reflection of the waning interest in State affairs, and the probability of a heavier tax burden on tickets, Metropolitan matchmakers do not seem discouraged.

While Chicago is concentrating on the Walker-Hudkins middleweight championship bout June 21, New York fans will be asked within the next few weeks to perk up interest in a half dozen battles, most of them specializing in light heavyweights, but with a sprinkling of heavies and lightweights.

The financial flop attending most, if not all of the outdoor affairs here so far, has prompted Tex Rickard to select Madison Square Garden for everything but his biggest shots. Of necessity, however, his promotion rival, Humbert Fugazy, must stick to the outdoor arena, Ebbets Field. Humbert has no other place to go.

Jimmy McLarin, erstwhile lightweight sensation, recently defeated by Sammy Mandell, will try to recoup some of his fortunes indoors. He is to meet Phil McGraw at the Garden the same night that Mickey Walker is battling the Nebraska Wildcat, Ace Hickins, at Chicago. McGraw will be more to McLarin's free-punching style than the fitting, fancy-stepping Mandell.

The busy light heavyweight brigade with the Latzo-Lomski elimination affair on this evening at Ebbets Field, moves indoors for a championship tilt June 28 at the Garden where Tommy Loughran will face his old rival, Jimmy Slattery. It was a victory over Slats last winter that clinched world's championship recognition for Tommy. He will be favored to repeat but it ought to be an interesting debate between two of the cleverest boxers in the division.

Although Ebbets Field was a jinx for Harry Willis, his predecessor at the heavyweight, "Black Menace" George Godfrey will tackle the rough and rugged Johnny Risko there next Wednesday under Signor Fugazy's auspices. Fugazy promoted the affairs that put Old Har' out of the picture, first in a bout with Jack Sharkey and last summer in a match with Paulino, who flattened Harry in four rounds.

Godfrey won a close and disputed decision over Paulino at Los Angeles some time ago, but he probably will find Risko, the ring's cross-word puzzle, more difficult to solve. Johnny can think of more ways to land a punch than a puzzlemaker can three-letter words.

WHAT HAPPENED IN THE ROPED ARENA LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press.)
New York—Stanislaus Loayza, Chile, defeated Joe Glick, New York, (10).

Newark, N. J.—Pierre Charles, Belgium, won from Bud Gorman, Kenosha, Wis., (10). George Smith, Newark, outpointed Gene McHugh, Chicago, (10).

Montgomery, Ala.—William (Young) Stribling, Macon, Ga., knocked out Joe Packo, Cleveland (7).

Indianapolis—Howard Bentz, Milwaukee, won on a foul from Bobby Williams, Syracuse, N. Y., (5). Joe Zink, Syracuse, knocked out Jimmy Kump, Cincinnati, (4).

Denver—Lou Scozza, Buffalo, N. Y., and George Manley, Denver, drew (10). Leonard Boskovich, Denver, won a technical knockout over Sailor Reynolds, Chicago (3).

MOHAWKS SCORE THIRD WIN OVER HUTTON JRS

The Ponchohockie Mohawks trimmed the Hutton Juniors for the third time in succession Monday night, 6-4. The game was played on the Hutton's diamond at Kingston Point. Schusser and Jansen formed the battery for the winners and Turk and Perry for the Huttons. The lead was taken by the Mohawks in the first inning and held throughout the game.

Score by innings:

Mohawks	4	0	1	0	0	0	1	6
Huttons	2	0	0	0	2	0	0	4

NEWBURGH CITY HOME NOW IN MINUS CLASS.

Owing to inadequate hospital facilities, the city and town home of Newburgh was recently put in "Class II-minus" after an inspection by the State Board of Charities representatives. It was recommended that a hospital for the care of the sick and infirm be had at the home. The commissioners of the home have been striving for some years to afford a hospital. They now have $7,000 on hand for the erection of a hospital but it is estimated that one would cost approximately $50,000. It is said the hospital would save much money for the board in eliminating inconvenience in attending the sick.

Entertainment Tonight.

An entertainment will be given at Odd Fellows' Hall, 102 Cornell street, tonight at 8:30 o'clock. Mr. Timie, Scotch entertainer, will give a sketch. Tagging Major League Bases

By Herbert W. Barker
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Subjected to one of the heaviest canoodlings of the current season, yesterday, major league moundmen today cautiously peered from their basements to see whether the home-plate was over.

Night big league battles—and most of them were just that—saw 52 pitchers pounded for 133 hits on which 163 runs were scored. Sixty of the hits were for extra bases—33 doubles, 11 triples, and 16 home runs.

National League batsmen were the most active, as the following table shows:

	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	BB
National	42	12	19	4	8	36	14
American	42	12	14	7	8	35	12

Only six pitchers went the route, Wiz Krumer, Larry Benton, Jim Elliott, Ed Morris, Sad Sam Jones and Owen Carroll.

The heaviest snelling of the day was in the Philadelphia sector of the National League. Here the Pittsburgh Pirates cracked out 25 hits to beat the Phils, 15 to 4. Krumer, a sad disappointment this season, returned to form and gave the Quakers only five safeties, two of them, however, were home runs.

Behind Benton's strong pitching, the New York Giants batted out 16 hits to crush the league-leading Cincinnati Reds, 19 to 1. Allowing but six safeties, Benton registered his 10th victory in 12 games all of them complete games. Horace Ford chalked up the Reds' 82nd double play of the season in the fifth inning and then made two errors on one play, his first miscue in 26 games. He had handled 137 consecutive chances without a miss.

The St. Louis Cardinals moved to within one game of the Reds by taking over the Braves at Boston, 9 to 6. In a wild game that saw 28 safe hits made, 18 of them by the winners. Jim Bottomley hit his 10th and 11th homers and Rogers Hornsby his 12th.

Shut out for five innings by Charley Root, the Brooklyn Dodgers suddenly came to life and battered out a 13 to 1 decision over the Chicago Cubs. Del Disonette drove in five runs with his 12th home run of the year, two doubles and a single. Elliott held the Cubs to seven safeties.

In the American League the Yankees home-ran their way to a 15 to 7 triumph over the Chicago White Sox. Babe Ruth hit his 23rd homer; Lou Gehrig his 14th and 15th and there were contributions of one each from Pat Collins and Earle Combs.

Pitchers came into their own in the other three games. Ed Morris, big Red Sox rookie right hander, beat the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 2, allowing seven scattered hits. The Washington Senators made it three in a row over the Cleveland Indians, 3 to 2, behind Jones' good pitching. Jimmy Fox's single in the eighth scored Cochrane with the run that enabled the Philadelphia Athletics to beat Detroit, 3 to 2.

INDIAN FEATHERWEIGHT MAY FIGHT AT ARMOY

Pinky Urquhart, Yaqui Indian for the state of Jalisco, Mexico, one of the fastest featherweights now fighting in the southern part of the United States, may be seen in the local armory if "Doc" Studer can arrange to bring the scrapper north for fights.

The little Indian has defeated some prominent boxers in the vicinity of Texas, where he does considerable of his scrapping, including Blaz Rodriguez, Tony Russell, Pinky George, Quana Lee of Florida. He scored a technical kayo over Elbie Gonzallo, Mexican champion.

He is scheduled to meet "Red" Atherton in Montana in the near future and while he will be traveling it may be possible to land him for a bout here.

Will Discontinue Business.

Miss Alice A. Burhans, who has been designer and maker of ladies' and misses' hats for a number of years at 253 Wall street, will discontinue that business in Kingston after July 1.

Centrals Have Not Disbanded

Although rumor has it that the Central Baseball Club has "burst up", Business Manager Tony Gentile said this morning that the team has not disbanded. A meeting of the executive committee of the Central Business Association, which the team represents, will be held today or Thursday to decide whether or not the Centrals will continue.

The Centrals, organized approximately six weeks ago, have had very poor support during their period of playing here. The brand of ball they have played, although good, could not attract a paying crowd. A number of games are now on the schedule of the team and a busy season is ahead of the Centrals unless the business men decide to let the team disband.

Roundouts Lost.

The Roundout A. C. lost to the New Paltz Firemen, 3-2, at New Paltz Tuesday evening.

Industrial League Game Tonight

The Apollos will try to run their winning streak to four games when they meet the Hercules tonight at the Athletic Field at 6:15. Mauer and Pelen will make up the Hercules' battery, while Merritt and Short will go the honors for the Apollos.

Presbyterian Won.

The Elmendorf Street Presbyterian defeated the Comforter Church team, 14-4, Tuesday evening at the Athletic Field in a Y. M. C. A. Sunday School League game. Williams, Sheridan and DuBois did the twisting for the losers and were found for 15 blows. Smith, Kennedy and Saunders allowed nine hits to the Comforter nine.

Clermonts vs. Columbians.

The Clermonts will take on the Columbians team of the Industrial League at Hasbrouck Park this evening.

THE puzzle is to find one thing in this 1885 street scene that you wouldn't be ashamed to be seen with or in today. Horse-car? Parasol? That hat? That collar? (Now you're getting close) The cigar!!!!

Right you are! That cigar is a Peter Schuyler. Where—in any picture ever painted—could you ever find anything righter than a good old Peter Schuyler? Since the days when women were women and waists were not wasted—way back in 1885—Peter Schuylers have been famous for their ALL-Havana filler, a mild blend of Cuba's choicest tobaccos.

Forty-three years' experience gives the makers of Peter Schuyler a tremendous advantage over newcomers in the cigar game. Forty-three years—directly responsible for such an outstanding value as Peter Schuyler Perfecto—2 for 25¢. Or Victor and Panetela sizes (All-Havana filler also) for only 10¢.

Economy—Economy—Economy
Brief in price—5 cents—but long on value. The slightly smaller Peter Schuyler Brief is rolled from short pieces of fine Havana filler purchased for our more expensive cigars. You can save money without sacrificing satisfaction.

Episcopal Women In Session Here

There was a representative gathering of the women of the Episcopal Churches of this city and nearby towns at a neighborhood meeting held in the parish house of St. John's Episcopal Church on Albany avenue on Tuesday afternoon.

There were delegations from Ellenville, Saugerties, West Park, Newburgh and Harrison, the home of Mrs. Samuel Thorne, president of the Diocesan Women's Auxiliary and connected with the National Board, who was the speaker for the afternoon.

The Rev. W. Poyntell Kemper, rector of St. John's Church, welcomed the women and paid a fine and well-deserved tribute to the helpfulness and inspiration of the Women's Auxiliary throughout the entire diocese, showing how much of the educational and spiritual as well as material work of the churches depends upon these loyal women.

He introduced the speaker, Mrs. Thorne, who gave a very inspiring talk, not so much upon the material accomplishments of the Women's Auxiliaries, good and needed though that is, but upon the spiritual import of the organization and its bringing of the women into closer relationship with their Lord and Master and therefore with all about them.

A very short and helpful talk was also given by Miss Ramsdell, vice-president of the Auxiliary of Newburgh, who also announced that the next district meeting of the Diocesan Auxiliary would be held in November in Walden.

Mrs. George DuBois, president of the hostess Auxiliary, voiced the sincere thanks of all for the inspiring talks given and to the various delegates who were present.

When the Class of '28 steps down

Some call it Graduation. Others like to think of it as Commencement.

For the man or woman or boy or girl who steps down from the platform commences a new life.

Can you think of any gift that will prove as useful today, tomorrow, and in the days to come as a fine watch? A Hamilton watch?

We have new Hamilton Strap models for the man, wrist models for the young woman and pocket Hamiltons whose beauty is only second to their railroad accuracy.

A fine Hamilton can be bought from us for as little as $50.

700% Efficiency!

By using a Black & Decker HOLE SAW, the capacity of the 1/2-inch Special Electric Drill can be increased to 3 1/2 inches, or 7 times its normal capacity.

The Hole Saws are made of tempered steel, and will cut clean round holes in wood, sheet metal, cast iron, aluminum, bakelite or any material that can be cut with a hack saw.

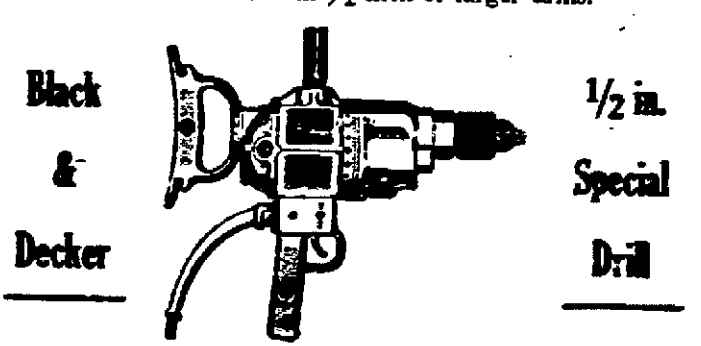

The Hole Saws are made in a wide range of sizes from 3/4-inch to 3 1/2 inches, by eighths, and are fitted to the drill chuck by a demountable mandrel, which holds a small twist drill to act as a guide for centering the saw.

The saws are marked for various pipe tap and conduit sizes.

A real money making accessory for your Black & Decker Electric Drill. Usable with 1/2-inch or larger drills.
